

NorthQuay 'Harbour Line' AW26 - image brief

Campaign reference: NQ-HARBOUR-LINE-AW26 Product: the Harbour Line jacket - slate-blue shell, single chest seam, stand collar, matte finish, no visible branding on the garment itself.

The complaint that started this

Marketing generated 40 hero candidates last month and rejected 34 of them because "the AI keeps changing the product". No one recorded what changed, by how much, or which prompt produced which output. This lab replaces that argument with a measurement.

What the brief actually constrains

Factor	Constraint
SUBJECT	The jacket as described above, worn open over a plain cream tee by an adult model, three-quarters to camera
CONTEXT	Harbour boardwalk at first light; mooring bollards mid-ground; wet timber underfoot
STYLE	Documentary product photography; restrained colour; natural contrast; no lens flare
TECHNICAL	35mm equivalent, shallow depth of field, low warm key from camera left, 4:5 delivery

What the brief does NOT constrain

Weather beyond "clear with low haze", the model's appearance beyond "adult", and the exact bollard arrangement. Anything not listed above is free to vary, and your experiment should show it varying.

Acceptance

A prompt is accepted when four variants generated from it hold the subject and the composition within the tolerances measured in this lab, and when the prompt is versioned so a colleague can repeat the documented configuration; stochastic output pixels need not repeat.
